Doyon Announces 2015 Holiday Artwork Contest Winners

The annual Doyon, Limited holiday artwork contest was a huge success this year. Doyon received more than a dozen entries from young shareholders all over Alaska, as well as from out-of-state shareholders. Each piece was beautifully done, and Doyon thanks all who participated.

The contest was open to Doyon shareholders and shareholder direct descendants between the ages of 5 - 17. Submissions were required to be original artwork, and could be painted, hand-drawn, photography or digital. The artwork had to feature a holiday theme and represent Doyon's mission and values.

Congratulations to this year's first-place winner, Audrey

Message to Shareholders

Dear Shareholders,

Doyon has had a great 2015. As many of you already know, we issued our 29th consecutive shareholder dividend on December 8, in the amount of $5.18/share. We had the strongest fiscal year in Doyon history and paid the highest amount in shareholder wages of $40.6 million. The success in 2015 is because of the dedicated employees that work for your corporation. Details about Doyon's financial performance will be in the 2015 annual report, to be mailed to shareholders in January.

We expect to have a very strong year in 2016, but because of the slump in oil prices, Doyon's financial performance may not be as strong as 2015. As always, Doyon will manage our businesses to take advantage of the opportunities that are available and to minimize impacts on our workforce.

We still have a lot to look forward to in 2016, including two major projects in the Nenana basin. In February, Rig 142, the newest rig in the Doyon Drilling fleet, will be commissioned and go into service on the North Slope under a five-year contract with ConocoPhillips. We remain a financially strong and vibrant company.

As we close 2015, my family and I wish you and your families happy holidays and a new year filled with peace and prosperity.

Respectfully,

Aaron M. Schutt
President and CEO

Doyon to Conduct More Seismic Testing in Nenana Basin

Doyon, Limited announced it will further accelerate its oil and gas exploration program in the Nenana basin with 2-D seismic testing in a large area north of more recent operations. The program will begin in January 2016.

This program is a follow up on a 3-D seismic program completed in late 2014 covering a portion of the central Nenana basin, and the recent announcement of new exploration drilling planned there for summer 2016.

Crews will begin mobilizing in early January 2016 for this 160-mile program, which will continue into April 2016. The effort is part of Doyon's long-term exploration program in this 1,200-square-mile frontier basin in Interior Alaska, located west of Fairbanks and parallel to the Parks Highway, rail, electrical transmission lines and the planned natural gas pipeline route from the North Slope to Cook Inlet. Doyon's 2012 2-D seismic program in the northern part of the basin showed positive results that encouraged the company to return to this area.

Doyon is the sole lessee of approximately 400,000 acres of State of Alaska oil and gas leases in the Nenana basin. It owns the subsurface, including oil and gas rights, to an additional 42,000 acres.

On August 13, 2015, Doyon announced it will drill a third well, Toghoththele #1, in the basin beginning summer 2016. The well will be drilled in an area where the company believes that chances of commercial success for natural gas are now as high as one in two, based on results of earlier efforts. The hydrocarbon targets in the basin continue to be both oil and natural gas.

The Doyon annual report and proxy materials will be mailed to all voting shareholders on January 26, 2016. Online voting via eProxy will be available starting January 27. Shareholders are encouraged to return their proxy by mail or online by the early bird deadline on Friday, February 19 at 5 p.m.

In addition to the election, the Shareholder of the Year Awards will also be presented at the 2016 annual meeting. Many nominations were turned in this year prior to the September 30 deadline. The Doyon board of directors reviewed nominations at the November board meeting in Fairbanks.

For future updates about the 2016 annual meeting, visit Doyon's annual meeting webpage or watch the Doyon newsletter and social media outlets.

Doyon Shareholder Reception a Success

Shareholders gathered to hear updates from President and CEO Aaron M. Schutt, as well as socialize and enjoy refreshments and door prizes. Past board member Mike Fleagle was also recognized by the board for his years of service and commitment to Doyon.

Doyon Makes $250,000 Contribution to Troth Yeddha' Legacy Project

Doyon, Limited will contribute $250,000 to the Troth Yeddha' Legacy Project for the indigenous studies center on the University of Alaska Fairbanks campus, announced Doyon President and CEO Aaron Schutt on October 17 at the Alaska Federation of Natives convention in Anchorage, Alaska. As the first contribution of this size by an Alaska Native organization, Schutt encouraged other Native organizations to consider contributing to the center.

The vision of Troth Yeddha' is to have a center that celebrates the culture of Alaska Native people, while welcoming all people. Troth Yeddha', or "a place where thinking and working together would happen" as stated by the late Chief Peter John, is a two-phase project. In phase one, the goal is to raise $5 million for the Troth Yeddha' park. The goal of phase two is to raise $20 million to build the indigenous studies center.

"This center honors leaders who help keep indigenous practices alive," Schutt said. "This initiative aims to do more than just build on the past. It will build on a legacy of leadership as students learn and study important subjects and bring them together in this center."

Following Doyon's presentation, Tanana Chiefs Conference (TCC) President and Chairman Victor Joseph announced that the TCC board approved a $25,000 contribution to the center.

2015 Dialogue with Doyon Update

The 2015 – 2016 Dialogue with Doyon sessions kicked off in Holy Cross, Nikolai and Tanacross in October and in Huslia in November. Members of the Doyon, Limited board, senior management and staff attended the four sessions to provide shareholders in those communities and surrounding villages with information about Doyon, and to listen to questions and concerns.

Each Dialogue with Doyon session includes a meeting with community members, typically held in the evening after a potluck dinner. Presentations include information on Doyon’s financials, shareholder hire, exploration efforts, and employment and training opportunities.

In addition to the evening gathering, the Doyon team takes time to meet with students and teachers to share information about Doyon, discuss what it means to be a Doyon shareholder, and promote employment and training opportunities.

During the visit to Huslia, Doyon also hosted a resume-building workshop. Four Huslia residents, including Kody Solomon and Rosie Simon, participated in the workshop.

“It was simple because of the easy formatted templates,” Solomon said. Simon added, “I liked getting help with putting everything in order on my resume.”

Upcoming Dialogue with Doyon meetings include visits to Anchorage on January 15; Seattle, Washington on January 23; and Portland, Oregon on January 24.

More information about Dialogue with Doyon can be found at doyon.com or by calling 1-888-478-4755.

Subsidiary News: Doyon Utilities Tanya Kaquatosh Leads Regulatory Affairs Department

This year, Doyon Utilities (DU) celebrates its seventh anniversary of providing regulated utility services to military customers throughout Alaska at Fort Wainwright, Fort Greely and Joint Base Elmendorf Richardson (JBER).

DU is committed to providing safe, reliable and healthy utility services to the installations it serves. In doing so, DU continually looks for opportunities to better serve its customers through improved organizational operations and efficiencies. Utilizing its existing workforce to the best of its abilities and strengths is key to this effort.

Recently DU established an internal regulatory affairs department. This was done to facilitate the regulatory relationship between customers and the utility as well as to promote an alignment of interests as the company moves forward. Dan Gavora, president and CEO of Doyon Utilities, had only to look internally to the finance department to select the perfect candidate, Tanya Kaquatosh, for this critically important position.

"I was very pleased that we were able to fill this position internally," Gavora said. "Tanya's educational background, prior work history as well as her determination to succeed made selecting her an easy choice. I am very confident in her ability to excel in this new and tremendously important role."

Kaquatosh will lead the new department as the director of regulatory affairs. Daniel Heckman, the regulatory affairs associate, will continue to provide support to regulatory affairs, in addition to assuming contract compliance responsibilities.

Kaquatosh is a seasoned professional with utility accounting and business operations experience. She holds a bachelor's degree in economics from Stanford University and an MBA from Arizona State University. She is also a graduate of the 2014 Doyon Leadership Training program.

Since June 2012, Kaquatosh has worked as a financial specialist at DU in the finance department. Prior to DU, she worked at Doyon, Limited as the executive assistant to the president/CEO for over four years.

Kaquatosh grew up in Interior Alaska and is active in the community. Currently, she serves on the Alaska Native Education Parent Advisory Committee as vice-chair and volunteers for educational programming in the school district.

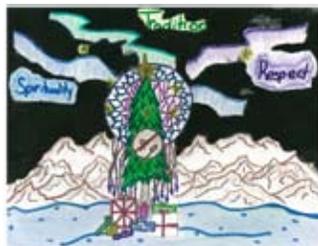

She is the daughter of Barbara Beatus and the late Norman Beatus of Hughes. Her maternal grandparents are Johnson Moses and the late Bertha Moses of Allakaket, and her paternal grandparents are Henry and Sophie Beatus of Hughes. Her siblings are Jody Moses, Joyce Oldman, Jessica Wilson and Cherise Beatus. Kaquatosh resides in Fairbanks with her husband, Steve, and their daughter, Skye.

The third-place winner, Kaylon Madros, age 15, of Nulato, Alaska, won a gift card for her drawing of a Christmas tree surrounded by high mountains and the rising sun. Her piece stood out due to its strikingly bright colors, abstract lines and incredible detail.

The holiday card/calendars featuring Schick's artwork will arrive in shareholder mailboxes in early December, so be sure to keep an eye out for yours. Also, watch Doyon's social media channels for postings of all the entries as the holidays approach.

Again, Doyon thanks all the young shareholders who participated in the holiday artwork contest and looks forward to seeing more wonderful pieces of work in the 2016 holiday artwork contest!

Shareholder Spotlight: David Kokrine Invited to Represent Alaska in the DownUnder Games

Doyon, Limited shareholder David Kokrine, 16, has been invited to represent Alaska at the 16th annual track and field meet at the DownUnder games in Australia in June 2016.

Kokrine is a Koyukon Athabascan with family from Tanana and Huslia, Alaska. His parents are Curt Kokrine, Sr. and Beverly Kokrine. His grandparents are Billy and Flora Demoski from Tanana, Alaska and the late Franklin Simon and Lillian Simon from Huslia, Alaska. He carries the name David after Flora's brother of Crossjacket, Alaska, who was a song composer and singer.

Kokrine has a passion for racing and doesn't limit himself to just foot races. He has raced the Junior North American dog race in the last several years with dogs from his uncle Marvin Kokrine. Earlier this spring Kokrine placed second in the Junior North American Races.

"I love it. It was always fun. It kind of soothes the soul," Kokrine said. "My grandfathers did that a lot. They always dog mushed and did hard work. It takes hard work to run the dogs. Thanks to my Uncle Marvin."

Kokrine has been on the Effie Kokrine Charter School cross country running team for the past two years. When Kokrine was a freshman, the school had enough runners to place first in the regional race. This fall, however, there were only three runners on the team - but this small group of dedicated runners was not discouraged by their limited team size.

"It changed. We had a full team. Now we have three runners," said Kokrine, who ran in the Alaska state meet this fall. "Running is fun. Competing is fun actually. I didn't want my school to miss. I was representing Effie. I have a pair of snowshoes to train in all winter."

Through his hard work and dedication to the sport, Kokrine received an invitation to represent Alaska on the Pacific Conference Cross Country Team at the 16th annual track and field meet at the DownUnder games in Australia next summer. During the event, 300 high school athletes from across the world will compete at the event, each an ambassador for their state.

"This shows us that perseverance can give us opportunities that we never imagined," said Kokrine's mom, Beverly.

Kokrine said he is excited to go to Australia and he is hoping the weather will be cool, since it will be Australia's winter. His family is helping him prepare for the trip of a lifetime in June 2016. For information on ways to support Kokrine, please email Beverly Kokrine at bevkokrine@gmail.com.

personally chosen for each child based on age and gender. Once the shopping is done, the gifts are wrapped by volunteers and sent to the various communities. As the cost of goods and shipping continues to increase, this is just one way that Doyon and the community can give back to shareholders and celebrate the holiday spirit.

Last year, gifts for the communities of Koyukuk, Shageluk, Nikolai, Kaltag, Huslia, Hughes and Holy Cross were provided, with the help of many community and business donations, including freight services. Gifts were also given to children in the Fairbanks Native Association (FNA) GRAF Adolescent Treatment Facility, and FNA Women and Children's Center.

HR/Shareholder Outreach Update: Get Up, Move, Do Something with Daaga' Awards

Proposals due January 8

“Get up, move, do something!” This is the meaning of the Athabascan word Daaga’ and the spirit of the Doyon, Limited Daaga’ Awards, which provide annual grants to programs and projects that promote healthy, clean and sober Alaska Native communities.

Proposals for the 2016 Daaga’ Awards will be accepted until the deadline of Friday, January 8, 2016 by 5 p.m. Applications are available at www.doyon.com.

Since 1990, the Daaga’ Awards have provided more than $220,000 in funding to Interior Native individuals and organizations to help promote drug- and alcohol-free communities and programs.

The proposed projects should support the values of the Daaga’ Awards, including contribution to the healing that lies within the local people, utilize the strength of traditional values, and encourage programs that integrate spiritual, social and economic needs of the communities.

The number of awards are limited, and proposals may be granted up to $3,000 per funding period. The awarded amount is dependent on the number of proposals received and the need of the program as described in the application and supporting materials.

Applicants may not always receive the full $3,000. For this reason, Daaga’ should be considered supplemental funding and not be the only support sought when funding a program.

For more information, please contact shareholder outreach at 1-888-478-4755 (toll-free), 459-2127 (in Fairbanks) or malamuted@doyon.com.
