2014 Get Out The Native Vote Picnic Promotes Alaska Voting and Registration

Fairbanks, Alaska – Today, Get Out The Native Vote (GOTNV) will host a picnic in Growden Park from 4 – 6 p.m. to promote Alaska voter registration. At the picnic, participants will have the opportunity to register to vote, update their voter registration information and hear 2-minute speeches given by candidate attendees. All are welcome to attend and enjoy food and entertainment by the Minto Native dance group.

Attending candidates include: House District 1; Gregory Bringhurst and Rep. Scott Kawasaki, House District 6; Wilson Justin, Lieutenant Governor; Craig Fleener and Robert Williams, Governor; Brad Snowden and Bill Walker, Senate District A; Tamara Kruse, Senate District C; Sen. Click Bishop and Dorothy Shockley, U.S. House; John Cox and Forrest Dunbar.

Get Out The Native Vote is a non-partisan effort organized by Doyon, Limited, Fairbanks Native Association, Tanana Chiefs Conference and local community volunteers to promote Alaska voting and registration with a focus on reaching the rural areas of Alaska and Alaska Native voter participation. Learn more about GOTNV at bit.ly/DoyonGOTNV and www.facebook.com/GOTNVinterior.
